

Bravida Denmark acquires HP El-service A/S and strengthens its position in electrical systems and cooling

Bravida Denmark acquires the electrical systems and cooling company HP El-service A/S, thereby strengthening its position in Central Jutland. The company has sales of DKK 20 million and 16 employees.

HP El-service A/S was founded in 1984 and works primarily with industrial services, including the installation of electrical and cooling systems throughout the Jutland region. It also carries out installations for private individuals and companies in the fields of industry, buildings, teledata, alarms, thermography and energy management.

“HP El-service is a good company with a solid history and a good reputation in the local area. With this acquisition, we are strengthening our position in Central Jutland in the area of electrical systems. In addition, the employees have competences in cooling technology, which means Bravida can now provide such services throughout Jutland,” comments Klaus Villefrance, Regional Manager for Region North, Bravida Denmark.

Ib Aarup, the current owner of HP El-service A/S, comments:

“We have had an exciting journey so far and I look forward to continuing to develop together with Bravida. It is important to me that both the company and our employees’ place of work continue to be run in a good way. I am also convinced that the acquisition will benefit our existing customers, who will now have access to all Bravida’s competences and services.”

The integration of the company into Bravida Danmark A/S will start on 7 July 2022, after which HP El-service A/S will gradually be integrated into Bravida Danmark’s overall business operations.
