

Bravida Sweden acquires plumbing company in Örnsköldsvik

Bravida acquires the plumbing company Rörteamet Själevad, thereby strengthening its position within heating and plumbing in the northern Swedish Örnsköldsvik area.

Rörteamet Själevad AB was founded in 1990. Over the years, the company has developed into a leading player in Örnsköldsvik, northern Sweden, currently with 18 employees. Bravida has now signed an agreement to acquire the business, which has a turnover of approximately SEK 32 million.

Olle Näsval, regional manager in Bravida's Northern Norrland region, says that Rörteamet is a well-run company that will fit well into Bravida's operations.

– Rörteamet has high competence, talented employees and is constantly working to create value to their customers. As a result of the acquisition, Bravida will become even stronger in heating and plumbing installations in the Örnsköldsvik area, says Olle Näsval.

Tomas Lindmark, founder and co-owner of Rörteamet, is also pleased with the deal:

– The acquisition feels like a natural next step for Rörteamet. This way, we can continue to develop the business. We will maintain our local roots, while at the same time becoming part of something larger. This opens up development opportunities, mainly for our employees but also for our customers.

Bravida will take over as owner on March 1, 2020.
