

Bravida awarded contract for installation work in a data centre, with an order value of approximately half a billion SEK

Bravida signs an agreement to perform extensive installation work for a large data centre in Sweden for an order value of approximately 500 million SEK.

Bravida will carry out all the technical installations in the building as well as additions to the main framework. The project will be managed by the Bravida Group's business area PMO - Special Projects, which is responsible for executing, managing and implementing large and complex projects. The E4 Stockholm Bypass, data centres and the expansion of the Stockholm metro are examples of these.

"We are proud and happy to have been awarded another exciting project. This provides further confirmation that we have the right expertise and the financial capacity to successfully carry out projects of this size," comments Mattias Johansson, CEO and Group President at Bravida.

Martin Syberg, Head of PMO - Special Projects at Bravida, comments:

"Large data centres are among our most exciting assignments, and the installations in them have a key role in ensuring the functioning and quality of the facilities. Having already successfully completed several similar assignments for the largest international operators in the industry, we know what is required of us. We look forward to delivering the assignment in the best possible way and are pleased to have the opportunity to further strengthen our ability and position in this area."

Bravida will start work on the project immediately, and completion is scheduled for Q4 2024.
