Bravida acquires Danish Insight Building Automation A/S

Bravida acquires Insight Building Automation A/S, a Danish company specializing in building automation and BMS (Building Management Systems). The business has 22 employees and offices in Silkeborg and Roskilde.

Insight Building Automation is one of Denmark's largest suppliers of advanced BMS systems. The company offers quality solutions for the control and monitoring of technical systems in buildings, including system integration of access control and fire alarms.

"With the acquisition of Insight Building Automation, Bravida strengthens the competence in consulting, control and monitoring of technical systems in buildings. We are pleased to take over a well-established specialist business. The purchase also supports our strategy to offer our customers everything from traditional solutions to the most complex concept and system solutions", says Johnny Hey, head of Division Denmark in Bravida.

"The largest asset in Insight Building Automation is our many competent specialists, who have many years of experience in the industry. We have long known that we would have to take the next step, sooner or later. We believe that our best option for realising our growth potential is to become part of one of Denmark's largest service and installation companies," says Brian Steen Hansen, CEO, Insight Building Automation.

Since January 1st 2019, Bravida is the owner of Insight Building Automation. All 22 employees continue in their current roles with CEO Brian Steen Hansen as responsible for the business.
